Merry-Go-Round Highway Visioned By Correspondent

BAY TREE, Aug. 28.—Double congratulations come from the residents of Alberta east of the R. C. Block to the new Herald-Tribune, as their first issue also publishes news of the opening of the new merry-go-round highway from Spirit River west to Bay Tree, which already has had for some years speedway connection with the highway linking Grande Prairie with the Fort St. John and other settlements north of the Peace in British Columbia.

Bay Tree will now jump from the back pasture behind the forest fence to a lawn-like settlement through which the merry-go-round highway will run. Residents of the whole Peace Prairie settlements can now tour and visit with each other and formerly isolated neighbors in a grand tour of the Peace Prairies.

Now mark on your road maps the townships on the new grand tour merry-go-round: Grande Prairie, Clairmont, Sexsmith, Rycroft, Spirit River, Whittman, Gordonville, Bay Tree, Brainer Ridge, Pouce Coupe, detour Guardian Oil well at Bonanza, Landing Bridge, Rolla, and Grande Prairie.

A fine sporting contest would be to call up sides and half the party go with the clock and the other half reverse. If chinook was blowing, it would help both ways.

The stores along the way may need to stock up with gas and oil at wholesale prices when the new Guardian Oil well at Bonanza blows in, for this merry-go-round highway will be well travelled then with tourists trekking to see what a real oil well in the Peace River Valley looks like.

Anyway, in the meantime there are lots of attractive sights for tourists to see en route.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Caldwell Celebrate Silver Wedding

Large Party of Old-Time Friends Assembled At the Caldwell Home And Present Couple With Beautiful Piece of Silverware—Evening Spent With Music And in Recalling Pioneer Days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Caldwell of Grande Prairie celebrated their silver wedding on Thursday, August 24.

In the evening a large party of old-time friends assembled at the Caldwell home on the highway to Clairmont and presented Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell with a beautiful piece of silverware.

The presentation was made by Tom Newton, who expressed the hope that the couple would long be spared to enjoy health and happiness.

Mr. Caldwell replied in a fitting little speech.

The evening was spent with music and in talking over the pioneer days of the Grande Prairie district.

Naturally the time when Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell were married was a topic of discussion. In the Grande Prairie Herald of Friday, August 28, 1914, there appeared the following account of the wedding:

A very quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride on Monday, August 25, 1914, when Miss Dorothy F., only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hickey of Richmond Hill and late of Birmingham, England, was united in marriage to one of the prominent young business men, W. L. Caldwell.

The bride, beautifully attired in white silk, entered the room on the arm of her father, to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

After the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. A. Forbes, those present sat down to an elaborate wedding supper, after which a very enjoyable musical evening was spent.

In musical circles on the prairie, Mrs. Caldwell has always been of great assistance, being an Associate of the Royal College of Musicians of London, England.

Miss Hoffer acted as bridesmaid, while A. McAuley filled the position of best man.

The bride was the recipient of a large number of costly and useful presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell were now comfortably settled in their new home, north of where they were taken to the mountains in search of big game trophies.

In conversation at the Grande Prairie station the visitors told The Herald-Tribune reporter that this was their first trip to the Peace River and their first trip into the mountains. They were looking forward with pleasure to the new experience.

Asked how conditions were in Texas, Mr. Leonard replied that considerable development was taking place throughout the state and crops were very good.

Two Texas men arrived on Tuesday to hunt big game.

O. P. Leonard and Arch Elevenger of Fort Worth, Texas, were passengers on Tuesday's train, en route to Wembley, where they were taken in tow by Bert Osborne, guide and outfitter, and proceeded to the mountains in search of big game trophies.

BEAVER LODGE Many Attend The Memorial Services Mrs. N. Nasedkin

Bentum United Church Filled To Capacity By Caring Friends Who Came To Pay Their Respects To The Memory Of One Who Played Her Part In The Life Of The Community—Front Part Of Church Literally Filled With Wonderful Flowers—Burial Will Take Place At McGrath, Alberta.

BEAVER LODGE, Aug. 28.—Bentum United Church here was filled to capacity at the memorial services held on Monday afternoon for Mrs. Nick Nasedkin of Beaver Lodge, who passed away in Grande Prairie on Friday, August 25. Rev. A. Thayer, the minister, and Rev. N. Calland of Beaver Lodge Anglican Church, jointly conducted the services. The Lord is My Shepherd, "Hail Be the Truest and Best," and "A Little With Me," "Perfect Peace," was the selection of the choir.

The front of the church was literally covered with beautiful flowers.

Rev. Mr. Calland, who gave the funeral address, took for his subject, "Teach me to know where I am. I may apply myself to wisdom."

After referring to the wonderful flowers which, he said, suggested peace and love, Mr. Calland stated: "This is the true personality, leaves this wonderful body which for time has been had its habitation."

Continuing, Mr. Calland remarked: "We pass through change, but we move and have our being, but they who have gone are unchanged and remain the same in perfect peace."

The speaker spoke of the beautiful life of Mrs. Nasedkin. Of the past, she played in the community and in the life of the church, in teaching Sunday school and as a member of the choir.

Mr. Calland said: "Think of them as busy living in the invisible world filled with great activities. They have been embraced in the arms of God's love."

The speaker asked the congregation to think of them as happy, for they are not truly separated from us, and they have fellowship with us. We have been promised this reunion.

GORDONDALE

CHOICE FIELDS OF STOOKS
GORDONDALE, Aug. 28.—Harvesting was general the latter part of last week and if ideal weather continues cutting will be a long way towards being completed by the middle of next week. Some very choice fields of stooks are to be seen well-filled heads. Though we on the lake received two heavy frosts on the 18th and 21st, respectively, the grain is too far advanced for much damage to be done. A conservative estimate of twice per acre, average, shows two potential bushels everyone finding themselves short.

GRADING OF ROAD

The latest report concerning the grading outfit is to the effect that they are now operating on R. 12, W. 6th Mer. and have only about ten miles of mucky grade to build and the balance all high land to the end of the grade east of Bay Tree. Mr. Henderson of Hythe is now running the grader. Mr. S. Boynton having relinquished that job to obtain medical attention. Plans from Bonanza intend to truck their grain in Spirit River this fall. It Is Now Peach and Plum Time In Canada

This Year's Crop Very Highest In Size and Quality

A Good Supply At Stores, Prairie And Dist. Stores And Wholesale Houses

As the result of a bumper crop this season peaches are being freely used in the daily menu as fresh fruit in desserts, salads, pies, puddings, and in several other ways. Housewives might be well advised to take advantage of the abundance of this fruit, which is now available at reasonable prices, and put up a good supply of home-canned peaches. The following recipes may prove useful:

Peach Marmalade

18 peaches Sugar
2 oranges Water
Peel and stone the peaches. Remove seeds from oranges and put through a food chopper. Mash all together, weigh, and allow an equal weight of sugar. First cook the fruit until tender in a small amount of water, then add heat and sugar and boil until thick. Pour into hot sterilized glasses, cool, seal with paraffin wax and store.

Peach and Apple Marmalade
Use equal parts of peaches and apples, diced. If the apples are a good color, do not peel them. Add three-fourths as much sugar as fruit. Cook the mixture slowly until thick and clear. Seal in clean hot jars. Equal parts of rhubarb, peaches and apples may be used.

Peach Conserve (Method 1)

24 large peaches.
1 cup seedless raisins.
2 lemons (juice and grated rind).
3/4 pounds sugar.
2 oranges (juice and grated rind).
Peel and slice the peaches. Add the sugar, raisins, juice and grated rind of the lemons and oranges, and let stand overnight. In the morning cook slowly until thick. Put in hot sterile glass.

Peach Conserve (Method 2)

24 large peaches.
2 oranges (juice and grated rind).
1/2 cup seedless raisins.
1 lb. shelled almonds (blanched and cut lengthwise in pieces).
3/4 lbs. sugar.
2 lemons (juice and grated rind).
Same method as in No. 1, only that ten minutes before removing the conserve from the fire, add the almonds.

Peach Conserve (Method 3)

24 large peaches.
2 oranges (juice and grated rind).
1/2 cup seedless raisins.
1 lb. shelled almonds (blanched and cut lengthwise in pieces).
3/4 lbs. sugar.
2 lemons (juice and grated rind).
Same method as No. 2.

CASAB MONOTONY

CUT OF MEAT

It's almost automatic, isn't it, to think of dinner in terms of meat, potatoes and some other vegetable. The only thing is to decide which kind of meat and what other vegetable, so that meals become almost routine. Why not break the monotony of such meals and, as a start, think of fish instead of meat? There is such a wide variety of fish available to the Canadian housewife at all times, that it can be served frequently and not grow tiresome. And then there are so many ways of serving it, such delicious garnishes to accompany it that a whole new field of culinary exploration is opened up. As the next step in getting away from routine, serve a fish and vegetable salad instead of a cooked vegetable. That is a particularly appropriate step at this time of the year. As for dessert, there is no reason to be in a rut there, but if you are, the recipe below will please you. With this suggested menu say good-bye to boredom and start a new dinner table era. There is nothing elaborate or difficult to prepare, it's just a change for the better.

RECORD PEACH CROPS IN ONTARIO AND B.C. THIS YEAR

Bumper crops of peaches are being picked this season in Ontario and British Columbia. A preliminary estimate places the 1936 crop in Ontario at more than 850,000 bushels, a 15 per cent increase over last year; while British Columbia expects 143,000 bushels, 10 per cent more than 1935. This year's peaches are of the very highest quality, for conditions have been particularly favorable for producing large, luscious fruit. Above is seen a picker in an Ontario orchard, and below a few baskets of the delectable fruit.

Of all the fruits grown, none is more delicious nor more healthful as food than peaches, whether eaten just as they are picked straight from the trees as fresh fruit, in peach salads, or in the many other ways they can be served fresh, preserved, or even pickled. In every way they are delightful. Canadian peaches cannot be excelled for flavor and quality. They can be bought now and until the end of September and are sold in Canada by grade, the grades in the order of quality and size being Select, No. 1, No. 2 or Domestic, and No. 3. The grade mark is plainly indicated on the basket or other container.

into cubes. Pile into sherbet glasses with cherries. Serves 6.

APPLE CROP ESTIMATE

According to the preliminary estimates of the 1936 apple crop in Canada, the provinces of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick will have increased while Ontario and British Columbia will have a smaller crop than last year. At the time of the issue of the estimate, the apple crop of Quebec had been fully estimated. The figures are: Nova Scotia, 2,530,000 barrels as compared with 2,300,000 barrels in 1935; New Brunswick, 63,200 barrels as against 68,000 barrels; Ontario, 769,300 barrels compared with 845,000 barrels, and British Columbia, 5,875,500 boxes as against 6,048,500 boxes in 1935.

BOUFFLES THAT DON'T FLOP

There is one member of a luncheon party which should never sit down. It's very embarrassing to the hostess when her guests are seated at the table to have the main dish, the soufflé—not only sit down but fall flat on its face. But as wise cooks know, this need never happen. So if in the past you have hesitated to make a soufflé because it might fail, try this delicious recipe and banish that bogey forever. The addition of quick-cooking tapioca to the soufflé will keep it high and handsome all the way through.

This salmon soufflé is ideal for a summer luncheon. It is easy to make and has a delightful flavor. A light salad and a simple dessert are suggested to complete the luncheon.

Salmon Soufflé
4 1/2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca.
1/4 teaspoon salt.
1/4 cup minced onion.
1 1/2 cups minced salmon.
3 egg yolks, beaten until thick and lemon-colored.
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten.
1 cup water and 2 bouillon cubes.
Combine quick-cooking tapioca, salt, onion, milk and stock in top of double-boiler. Place over rapidly boiling water and cook 8 to 10 minutes after water boils again, stirring frequently. Add salmon. Cool slightly while beating eggs. Add egg yolks and mix well. Fold into egg whites. Turn into greased baking dish. Place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) one hour, or until firm. Serves 8.

Regardless of the methods employed in preparing fruit juice, it is of the utmost importance that the fruit be fully mature. The finest flavors in fruit juice are found only in that obtained from properly ripened fruit free from mould or any other type of decay.

Reverence
"Dearest," said Mrs. Newlywed, who had made a certain amount of progress with her cooking practice, "what shall I cook for dinner tomorrow?"
"Anything except steak and kidney pudding," said her husband. "That's my favorite dinner."

with the rest of the province. Surely its development should be a matter of common local interest.

"Just now Fort Vermilion is looking northwest to the mining areas of Great Slave Lake. It is felt that in the long run the whole of the Yellowknife and other mining camps lie in the line of the proposed highway from Grimshaw to Great Slave Lake will be a great benefit to the area, connecting both with the north and the south.

"Last year the Dominion government made possible a start on a winter road to Great Slave Lake by contributing two-thirds of the cost of that portion of the road within Alberta and the whole cost of that portion of the road in the Northwest Territories. It is now winter when the work got under way and 'sufficient' progress was made to enable the tractor train to go through before spring. An even larger grant towards the project is being made available this year by the federal government and further work on the road has already commenced.

"A winter road is only a start. An all-year highway is required and suitable for trucking service. With start made on the project interest must not be allowed to lag. Strong representations must continue to be made to the governments of the Dominion and the province so that the urgent need of the road is not lost sight of.

"The people of the North have also a strong case to put forward for railway development. When the Northern Alberta Railway Company was incorporated in 1925 it was given power to lay out, construct, maintain and operate a branch line from a point in Township 111, Range 19 or 20, west of the Fifth Meridian, thence in a generally northerly direction approximately parallel to the Hay River to the northern boundary of the said province." There was a time limit of two years to commence construction and five years to complete the line. In 1931 the railway had this time extended by a further two years. There has been nothing done; it is certainly time there was.

"Two years ago Sir Edward Beatty, describing the Peace River as that remarkable country," declared that there should be a broad policy of settlement for the north and that extension of rail facilities should go hand in hand with civilization. Having seen the Fort Vermilion district and learned something of its great possibilities, it is easy to see Sir Edward's vision of the Peace River country expanding on healthy economic lines. The population of the Peace River country is now about 10,000. It is a small population. Once we have swept aside the reactionary policies and defunctures which have held back and are holding back the development of the Peace River country, the Fort Vermilion area will come into its own and enter upon that era of prosperity which is well deserved."

Mrs. Edwards and Jack are leaving in a few days to make their home in Edmonton, where Jack intends entering the University of Alberta to take up Medicine.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards came to Grande Prairie twenty years ago from Edmonton on the same route as the Revillon Wholesale Limited branch. Shortly afterwards Mrs. Edwards had a very serious breakdown in health and had to live in Kamloops, B.C., for a few years. Since that time, Mrs. Edwards has had to lead a very quiet life.

Mrs. Edwards is going to be in the Morrison Hotel and will continue to cover the territory as usual in the interests of her company. Mrs. Edwards had been given a heavy sanding, making them better for true playing.

The Club Championship final of 36 holes was played off between Larry Cobb and Francis Donald. At the 36th hole Cobb was in the lead with a score margin, being down six.

Recent rains no doubt will make fairways slow, but with favorable weather during the next few days the course ought to be at its best.

Clifford Sandhoff Fatally Killed By A Horse While Unitching A Team—Came Here From Oxbow, Sask. Six Years Ago Many Attend Funeral Service Held In Scenic Heights Hall On Sunday Afternoon

Rev. A. W. Cann, of St. Paul's United Church, Grande Prairie, officiated. "These tragic happenings in life sometimes stun us and make us ask questions which cannot be answered, and in the end we are thrown back on God's wisdom and love."

The hymns sung were "Rock of Ages" and "Rock of Ages."

War In Europe.

slight easing of the situation, though the official view is that there has been no change. Nazi organs continue to insist that the recovery of Danzig and the corridor is Hitler's last claim and that Germany has no quarrel with Britain and France.

However, leading Nazis now are saying that Hitler also must have peace with the Polish territory in Posen and Silesia. Great depression continues among the German people, who now realize something of the peril of war.

Now it is Rome's turn. In Rome it is felt that so long as diplomatic exchanges continue between London and London, any eventual settlement need not be given up. The Italians, however, have been warned by the sudden change in position of war-time precautions.

Germany is now at its height and preparing for evacuating women and children from cities, that peace hangs in the balance. Only a few days ago Fascist newspaper correspondents in London were describing the evacuation of London school children as proof of Britain's loss of nerve.

In Paris the evacuation of part of the population is proceeding rapidly. Paris streets are darkened at night, traffic has slackened, newspapers are reduced in size and content, and control of the industrial and economic life of the country centered in the government. Everyone waits and wonders what Hitler will do, but everyone is calm.

Russia's Soviet leaders have postponed ratification of the Russo-German non-aggression pact until domestic questions are settled first by discussion in the Soviet Congress.

The Times Moscow correspondent says Stalin and his colleagues want to know whether it is to be peace or war before ratification takes place. Observers in Moscow do not believe there are any light clauses in the Russo-German non-aggression pact, either for the partition of questions or Rumania. Anti-Nazi broadcasts, indeed, still continue.

Donald MacDonald, who has been able to do much to aid the Poles, Russia already has taken the precaution of strengthening her garrisons on her western frontiers.

The Times stresses Britain's complete readiness for war. Anti-air raid precautions are such that a knockout blow from the air is impossible either in London or elsewhere. The newspaper also stresses the unity of the Empire and its readiness for all emergencies.

PARTY FROM HIGH PRAIRIE BATTLE MUD FOR SIX HOURS

After battling mud for six hours, Mr. and Mrs. C. Spaulding, Charlie Walker and Sam Harris, of High Prairie, arrived in Grande Prairie at 11 a.m. Sunday morning from Dawson Creek, where they attended a meeting of the Masonic Lodge, at which the Grand Master and Grand Secretary of British Columbia were present.

The visitors decided to stay overnight in Grande Prairie, owing to the condition of the roads east.

"Personally, I am a bear for punishment, but the kids were so tired, I decided to let them sleep," remarked Mr. Spaulding as he stepped into the hotel to receive a thorough overhauling.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Man is the subject of the Lesson—Sermon at all Christian Science churches on Sunday, August 31, 1939. The Golden Text is Genesis 1:27. One of the Scriptural citations is 'Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect' (Matthew 5:48). One of the correlative passages from 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures' by Mary Baker Eddy is: 'When we learn in Science how to be perfect even as our Father in heaven is perfect, thought is turned into new and healthy channels--towards the construction of a new world, and away from materiality to the Principle of the universe, including harmonious man' (p. 278).
